This document describes the use of cookies on the website www.peermoon.io, indicating the purpose of the use of cookies, as well as users' rights during the use of cookies. Cookies help to provide, improve and protect the services provided by Peermoon, providing more convenient offers in response to client's needs and more convenient and safer use.

WHAT IS COOKIES?

A cookie is a small text file stored on a computer or other device when you visit a website. The text file contains information that is used to improve the experience of a website for visitors to specific web sites.

What cookies do www.peermoon.io use and what are the purpose?

This website uses several types of cookies (regular and sessions). They differ in terms of use and storage life. Time-consuming cookies can be upgraded and adapted to meet the quality of service provision, but the general uses are as follows:

- 1) User identification - provides for user identification and safer use of the Internet site.
- 2) Provision and maintenance of services - cookies that functionally support the provision of services provided by Peermoon.
- 3) Internet site security and service integrity - cookies that help build services by creating the best customer experience.
- 4) User statistics and analysis - provides information on how and how often the www.peermoon.io internet site is used, what user groups are and what search tools are used. Cookies statistics can also be obtained from affiliate web sites.
- 5) Provision of services and analysis of customer needs - cookies, which provide the most suitable offers for the client's needs. The www.peermoon.io website may use third-party cookies information. The user can also display the most relevant offers on the co-operation partners' Internet resources.

How can a user choose and change cookie usage?

If you do not want cookies on your devices being used, you can change your browser's security settings. Please note that changes to security settings must be performed by each browser individually and the setting methods used may vary. However, remember that without the approval of the session cookies with the help of the website www.peermoon.io, you will not be able to fully explore the services provided by Peermoon.

Where can I get information?

The use of cookies and the safe processing of your personal data are the responsibility of Peermoon. For more information, please contact us using our contacts presented on www.peermoon.io.
